Bucks County Breakdown

Across the County Line

Hatboro Horsham's 2023 "Hatrack" Middle School Yearbook featured a cover design emblazoned with the highly controversial "Progress Pride Flag," which blends the pride flag with the transgender flag, along with brown and black stripes to represent people of color. Every page also featured a pride logo. Hatboro Horsham does not have a neutrality policy to prevent advocacy in classroom.

Upper Dublin School District presented a "Pride Celebration" for "all ages" on June 16th, which included a Drag Queen story time and pride costume contest on district property after school hours.

Santarsiero Bill Threatens Girls' Sports and Safety

Sen. Steve Santarsiero (D), sponsors Senate Bill 150, ironically named "The Fairness Act." This bill aims to change the definition of sex discrimination in PA public accommodations to include gender identity and expression, which includes education. It passed the PA House (HB 300). Should this bill pass, it would prove devastating for girls' sports and spaces such as restrooms.

This comes in the wake of Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission (PHRC) announcing new regulations, expanding the definitions of 'sex,' 'religious creed,' and 'race,' under the PHRA. Under the new regulation, 'sex' is to include pregnancy status, childbirth status, breastfeeding status, sex assigned at birth, gender identity or expression, affectional or sexual orientation, and differences in sex development.

Penridge Democrats Mount Opposition to Bathrooms Based on Biological Sex

Following the Penridge School Board's May adoption of a bathroom and locker room policy based on biological sex, Penridge Democrats mounted a late, but loud, opposition. At the board's June meeting, public commenters threatened to organize lawsuits against the district, sharing social media contact information in public comment and offering to assist others in getting "legal recourse" to force mixed-sex bathrooms and locker rooms. Democrats were virtually silent on this issue prior to the policy's passing last month, however.
